

A photograph of a wedding ceremony taking place in a church. The bride, wearing a large white gown, and the groom, in a dark suit, are kissing. They are positioned in front of an ornate altar. To the left, a bridesmaid in a black dress holds a large bouquet of white flowers. To the right, a groomsmen in a dark suit stands near another large bouquet of white flowers. The church interior features tall, arched windows and a decorative altar with a red curtain. The text "From This Moment..." is overlaid at the bottom of the image in a white, cursive font.
